Etihad Airways

Abu Dhabi, U.A.E.

Introduction

Etihad Airways is the national airline of the U.A.E. With Abu Dhabi as its home base, Etihad Airways operates a modern fleet of aircraft to connect Abu Dhabi to over 70 destinations around the world. Etihad Airways is dedicated to providing an unbeatable flying experience, with unparalleled service.

Etihad's Routes to the United States:

Fly with Etihad to Chicago, New York, Washington and soon, Boston.

When flying to the U.S. with Etihad Airways, passengers can clear U.S. immigration before boarding the plane in Abu Dhabi. The U.S. Customs and Border Protection facility in Abu Dhabi airport means passengers can complete customs and immigration checks long before reaching the United States.

Etihad Airways is thrilled to announce its newest destination in the United States, with four weekly flights to Boston starting on 31 March 2024. This new route connects one of the United States' most vibrant and dynamic cities to the ever-expanding Etihad network.

"We are delighted to introduce flights to Boston, which opens up Abu Dhabi to visitors from the American Northeast and across the United States," said Antonoaldo Neves, Chief Executive Officer of Etihad Airways. "We eagerly await welcoming guests to our extraordinary home as well as offering them access to our growing global network."

Adding Boston shows Etihad's commitment to providing passengers with enhanced connectivity between the United States and Abu Dhabi. Etihad's Boeing 787-9 Dreamliner will fly to Boston four times a week on Mondays, Wednesdays, Fridays, and Sundays. The state-of-the-art aircraft features the airline's acclaimed Business Studios and Economy Smart seats, providing extraordinary comfort for guests.
